

Located on a beautiful 240-acre campus between two major cities in South Carolina in the heart of the Southeast, Presbyterian College (PC) offers a unique cultural experience. The Winter English Immersion Program allows international students to improve their English skills and explore a historic part of the United States.

WHY PC?

PC, was founded in 1880 and is among the Southeast's top liberal arts colleges. With only 1,200 students, it has a welcoming, family-like atmosphere. PC is located in Clinton, South Carolina, a small town only an hour away from major shopping and cultural destinations.

DISCOVER THE South

PC is located in the heart of a region rich in history that is known for its friendly culture and tradition of southern hospitality.

EIP will introduce you to the culture and society of this unique region through a variety of activities, including:

- In-class assignments & projects
- Literature, movie, & music discussions
- Local excursions

LOCAL Excursions

In addition to weekly trips, the program includes regional excursions to vibrant destinations. EIP participants will have the opportunity to delve into southern culture through weekend trips exploring the metropolis of Atlanta, Georgia, and skiing in Sugar Mountain, North Carolina.

WHY TAKE A PRE-TERM COURSE?

Languages thrive in a culture, not simply in a classroom. PC's 3-week English Immersion Program (EIP) helps students acclimate to conversational English and daily life in America before their university program. You will have the chance to learn and practice effective communication skills in an intimate, student-focused environment. You will explore a remarkable area of the country and build meaningful relationships with PC faculty and American students.

TRANSFORMATIVE Education

The program is designed to raise your English competency and introduce them to the academic skills expected of American university students. It includes 45 hours of classroom instruction, as well as extensive conversation sessions. The small class size provides an excellent setting for discussion. In addition, students learn valuable research methods and are able to attend a variety of lectures from exceptional faculty.

PROGRAM DATES, DEADLINES, & FEE
